Marine World Uminonakamichi 1

This aquarium has around 30,000 marine creatures from 350 species on display under the theme, the seas of Kyushu. Fun-filled attractions here include an exciting dolphin show and a massive tank that will allow you to feel as if you were actually in the ocean. It is thrilling to watch the huge sand tiger sharks and tens of thousands of sardines swimming in unison.

Wajiro Tidal Flat

This is one of Japan's top stopover sites for migratory birds. In spring and autumn, you can observe the sandpipers and plovers that have traveled across the world to reach here, while in winter, a variety of birds, including ducks, can be seen.

◀ Black-faced spoonbills (November to around April)

Shikanoshima Island 2

Since this island is connected to the mainland by a sandbar, it is easy enough to reach, or even to cycle around the just 10km of coastline. There are several popular spots to visit here, including Shikaumi Shrine where the god of marine transportation is enshrined, and Kin'in Park, where the kin'in, or gold seal, presented to Japan by what is now present-day China in the year 57 A.D. was discovered. The view from the observation point here is also quite amazing.

The island has a variety of eateries to choose from, such as one that offers sazae-don, a rice bowl with a topping of turban shells and seaweed cooked with egg, and a shop serving the island's well-known hot dogs, perfect for a quick snack.
